We understand your business needs clear billing that's easy to reference – so you can check usage, record costs and manage your mobiles more effectively. That's why, as well as sending you bills in the post, we also give you the option of using Bill Analyser.

Effortless insight into your business mobile use

Bill Analyser is a secure online analysis tool that offers a clear overview of your business mobile account. It provides everything from top-level summaries right through to individual usage records, so you can:

- See monthly activity at a glance, based on your last bill
- Make better business decisions based on greater insight and accurate data
- Monitor costs with complete tracking
- Record usage costs by department, cost centre or project team

Why use Bill Analyser?

This easy-to-use, versatile business tool allows you to:

- Record and monitor costs – throughout your company
- Identify personal use – highlight usage in and out of office hours to help manage business costs
- Use exception reporting to manage costs – see the most expensive usage
- Fully customise your view – create a company structure, tailor reports and assign names to destination numbers
- View online and download a PDF copy of your summary invoice (you'll still receive a VAT summarised paper version)

Bill Analyser covers calls, texts and data, and allows you to click through your billing data to reveal the information you need, right down to individual spending.

Separate out personal use

You can set up Bill Analyser to give everyone in your company their own log-in, with two levels of access available.

Administrators can access all of your company's billing data, while Handset Users can view and analyse their own usage.

They can also use the Splitbill function to tag which calls, texts and other items were for their own personal use and then submit the result to an Administrator.

See if it's for you

We recommend Bill Analyser to businesses with 10 or more connections. And remember, it's completely free to use.
