Overview

Specifications

The most sophisticated BlackBerry in the T-Mobile range, the Bold 9700 offers everything your business needs to be productive when out of the office.

Work and personal emails are pushed directly to your smartphone, so you'll never miss an important email again. And you can keep up to 10 email accounts organised with their own inboxes.

You'll be able to modify or add tasks to your list with ease using the full QWERTY keyboard, and you can keep on top of your working day with the built-in calendar, memo pad and task list.

Download BlackBerry® applications to further increase your productivity on the move – for example, mobilising your accounting, logistics or CRM systems. And your efficiency will continue to increase as more BlackBerry® applications are added.

There's a 2GB MicroSD card included, but you can add any size of card up to 16GB, giving you all the room you need to store all your documents, pictures, videos and more. And use the built-in Bluetooth® for handsfree connectivity with your smartphone, or share files with other Bluetooth® devices instantly.

Who will use it?

Businesses that want the latest high-end smartphone, who need access to email and Microsoft Office® applications while out and about, and other business applications like finance or CRM software.

Why buy?

It links with Microsoft Exchange so you can view and edit work emails and Microsoft Office documents on your way to meetings. Increase your productivity with BlackBerry® applications, and use track pad navigation as you would on a laptop.
